I'm Not A Juggler

I Juggle.

SUITABLE FOR ALL AGES

ABOUT THE ARTiST

OLLii PARK is a Spanish born, British raised, static trapeze artist. Who delves into conceptual narratives to illuminate emotion, combined with dynamically impressive circus technique, whilst utilising a strong dramaturgical framework.

With over a decade's worth of performance training and experience, coupled with his circus education in physical theater and circus (Circomedia) and circus and performance art (ACaPA). Ollii takes an audience into his own little bubble, statementing on whatever tickles his fancy.

ABOUT THE PiECE

'I'm Not A Juggler, I Juggle' is a 7 minute contemporary solo performance featuring British Static Trapeze artist, Ollii Park. Suitable for a frontal stage (but adaptable for circular) for all ages, with a capacity of 400 people and makes use of two fixed rigging points.

The performance uses simple and effective imagery along with newly invented technique, to merge the two disciplines of foot juggling and static trapeze technique. The piece creates a feeling of risk and humility, as the artist only uses one ball throughout. Throughout the act, the artist creates a relationship with his audience and uses a little amount of audience participation. It aims to charm, whilst also being impressive and has a neutral base. Meaning that the piece can be interchangeable with music and performance style to fit any venue or setting.
